LONNIE JOHNSON

SPEAKER

Lonnie Johnson, a Mobile native who became an Air Force engineer and NASA designer, is best known as the entrepreneur who invented the Super Soaker water gun, which became one of the world's most popular toys. His high-powered sprayers remain popular today, with sales of more than a billion dollars.

Johnson holds more than 140 patents. His companies, which include JTEC Energy and Johnson Energy Storage, have focused on energy conversion and new generations of rechargeable batteries.

Johnson was born and raised in Mobile. His mother was a nurse's aide, while his father was a World War II veteran who worked as a civilian driver at Brookley Air Force Base. As a boy, Johnson loved to tinker with things and was nicknamed "The Professor." He attended Williamson High and represented Mobile at science fair at the University of Alabama in 1968. He demonstrated a robot powered by compressed air and took home first prize.

Johnson attended Tuskegee University, where he earned a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering and a master's degree in nuclear engineering. He was commissioned as a U.S. Air Force officer through ROTC. Later, Tuskegee awarded him an honorary doctorate. He and his wife, Linda Moore, live in Atlanta.

After college, Johnson began his engineering career at Oak Ridge National Laboratory in Tennessee. He was called to active duty and served in the U.S. Air Force as acting chief of the Space Nuclear Power Safety Section at the Air Force Weapons Lab in Albuquerque, New Mexico, before becoming a senior systems engineer on the Galileo project (Jupiter) at NASA's Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena, California. He later rejoined the Air Force and served as Advanced Space Systems Action Officer and B2 (Stealth Bomber) Flight Test Engineer for the Strategic Air Command. He left the Air Force and joined NASA a second time for assignments on the Mars Observer and Cassini (Saturn) projects. He received multiple awards for his contributions to NASA's space program.

He was at home working on the design for a heat pump when his creation shot a stream of water across his bathroom. That gave him a very valuable idea. In 1989, Johnson licensed the "Power Drencher," which was renamed Super Soaker, to the Larami Corporation. Super Soaker became the No. 1-selling toy in the world. Johnson next focused on Nerf dart blasters. He patented numerous design upgrades that resulted in improved performance. The success of Super Soaker and Nerf N-Strike resulted in Johnson achieving his goal of becoming king of all toy guns.

In 2011, Johnson was inducted into the State of Alabama Engineering Hall of Fame in 2011 and the Alabama Business Hall of Fame in 2021. In 2015, the Super Soaker was inducted into the National Toy Hall of Fame. In 2022, Johnson was inducted into the National Inventors Hall of Fame.

KANE WOMMACK

SPEAKER

In his second season as head coach of the University of South Alabama football team, Kane Wommack led the Jaguars to a 10-3 season and their first bowl game in six years.

South was one of just 18 major college teams to win 10 games in 2022. The Jaguars gained national attention with a near-upset of UCLA in the Rose Bowl. The team motto for the season was LEO – “Love Each Other.”

Now Wommack – his last name is pronounced “WAH-mick” – and the Jaguars will try to build on their success at Hancock Whitney Stadium on the South campus.

When he was hired, Wommack was 33 years old, the youngest FBS head coach in the country. He and his wife, Melissa, live in Mobile and have three sons, Asher, 9; Tatum, 7; and Jones, 3.

Wommack came to South from Indiana University, where he was defensive coordinator from 2018 to 2020. He was one of five finalists for the Broyles Award as the nation’s top assistant coach. His teams are known for their swarming defensive schemes.

He is the son of a college football coach, Dave Wommack, whose career included stops at Arkansas, Southern Mississippi, Georgia Tech, South Carolina and Ole Miss. He grew up in Fayetteville, Arkansas, and Hattiesburg, Mississippi.

His father once took him along to a coaching convention, where he introduced him to all of the friends he knew who were looking for a job. He was trying to convince his son to find another profession.

It didn’t work. His son was determined to become a coach, too. He and his dad, who retired in 2016, still talk about fishing and football.

Kane Wommack played fullback at the University of Arkansas, where he wowed teammates during a freshman skit night. He did a 5-minute monologue using all of the mannerisms and catchphrases of head coach Houston Nutt.

Now he likes to joke that he was a poor player and a terrible quarterback coach before finding his niche coaching defense.

After Arkansas, Wommack transferred to the University of Southern Mississippi, where he earned a bachelor’s degree in political science and began his coaching career as a volunteer and student coach. His stops included UT-Martin, Jacksonville State and South Alabama, where he returned as head coach.

UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH ALABAMA

A BRIEF HISTORY

The University of South Alabama was founded in 1963 without a single building to call its own. More than 55 years and quite a few buildings later, USA is a vibrant university that continues to serve as a catalyst for transformational change in the city, the state and the Gulf Coast region.

USA's story began in the early 1960s, when Mobile's civic leaders saw the need to improve access to higher education in southwest Alabama.

Realizing the region had outgrown the small extension program that operated out of a building downtown, they formulated plans for a four-year, degree-granting institution. On May 3, 1963, a bill creating a new, independent university successfully passed the Alabama Legislature, and USA was born.

Classes began in June 1964 at a new, $1 million building in west Mobile. Initial enrollment totaled 276. The extent of the pent-up demand for education became obvious when the first fall semester began. Enrollment leaped to 928 — and it continues to grow. Today, USA enrolls approximately 14,000 students annually and has awarded more than 90,000 degrees.

The first campus building is now named the Frederick Palmer Whiddon Administration Building, after USA's first president. Whiddon helped establish the University and remained at its helm until retiring in 1998. His successor, longtime faculty member and administrator V. Gordon Moulton, oversaw a new era of growth into the 21st century. Dr. Tony G. Waldrop, president from 2014 to 2021, continued the USA tradition of visionary leadership focused on discovery, health and learning.

As new programs attracted more students, the University's footprint and facilities expanded. Almost from the moment USA accepted its first students, its leaders began ambitiously working toward establishing a medical school. The College of Medicine charter class began in 1973, and USA's focus on health education was later complemented by the College of Nursing and the Pat Capps Covey College of Allied Health Professions.

Today, USA provides high-quality education in business, the liberal arts, education, engineering, computing, the sciences and health care. It offers more than 125 undergraduate, graduate and doctoral degrees through its colleges and schools. The University campus includes USA Technology & Research Park, an incubator of economic development and technological innovation. On the east side of Mobile Bay, USA's Baldwin County Campus provides Eastern Shore residents convenient access to educational programs.

The University of South Alabama includes USA Health, composed of two hospitals — USA Health University Hospital and USA Health Children's & Women's Hospital — along with the USA Health Mitchell Cancer Institute and the USA Health Strada and Mastin patient care centers. This network of advanced health care services has improved the lives of countless residents throughout the region.

A charter member of the Sun Belt Conference, USA fields 17 Division I sports teams, including baseball, softball, basketball, soccer, volleyball, tennis, golf, cross country and track and field. In 2020, the football team played its first game in the new Hancock Whitney Stadium.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

Academic regalia can be traced back to European universities and ecclesiastical practices of the Middle Ages. As early as 1321, costumes identified the status of the wearer. In addition to signaling differences of degree, the garments had functional purposes, providing necessary warmth in sparsely heated buildings.

Regalia differentiate among the three degree levels used by our University; bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees. Common to all three levels is the headwear; the familiar square black mortarboard, although soft velvet tams may be worn by those holding doctorates. The gowns appropriate to the three ranks differ in the shape of the sleeves and in the special trim found on the doctoral gown. The bachelor's gown, which is unadorned, has wide sleeves that are pointed at the bottom. The master's gown has curiously designed sleeves, which are elongated at the rear and reach downward to the gown's bottom hem. The doctoral gown has bell-shaped sleeves and is distinctively trimmed with velvet facings down the front and three velvet bars on each sleeve. These trimmings may be black or the color appropriate to the discipline in which the degree was awarded.

The hoods worn by those holding the master's and doctoral degrees provide the color of the academic procession. These garments are draped over the shoulders and back of the wearer to display the linings, which present the colors of the university awarding the degree. Those holding degrees from the University of South Alabama wear hoods lined with chevrons of red, white, and blue. The hoods also have velvet binding, three inches wide for the master's degree and five inches for the doctorate, in a color designating the discipline.
